Post Writer Kuhn Speaks Tomorrow In Final Middle East Series Program

• FERDINAND KUHN, JR., Washington Post foreign affairs writer, points out the new frontiers of Iran, Turkey and Greece to Jesse Murphy, president of the International Relations Club; Professor Roland Ludden; and Rabbi Aaron Seidman, director of Hillel.

• "OUR NEW FRONTIERS—Iran, Turkey and Greece—in the Middle East" will be the subject of a talk given by Ferdinand Kuhn, Jr., Washington Post foreign affairs writer, tomorrow, 8:30 p.m., Hillel House, 2129 F Street, N.W.

Kuhn will be the fourth and final speaker in the Middle East Series sponsored jointly by the International Relations Club, the Intercollegiate Zionists Federation of America and the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation.

Reports For Times

A 1925 graduate of Columbia University, Kuhn served his journalistic apprenticeship as a reporter on the New York Times from 1925 to 1928. In 1928, Kuhn was assigned to the London staff of the Times, eventually becoming their chief London correspondent. In 1939, he was recalled from London to become an editorial and special writer on the Times. Soon after his return, Columbia University awarded Kuhn a medal for distinguished service.

Kuhn left the Times to become an assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury in 1940. Three years later he was appointed deputy director, Office of War Information (Overseas Branch) and chief of its British Division. The Department of State beckoned in 1943 and he became the director of its international information service.

Author Of Two Books

Since 1946 he has been a staff writer on foreign affairs for the Washington Post. In his spare time Mr. Kuhn has contributed to two books—"We Saw It Happen" 1938 and "Days of Decision," 1941. He just recently completed a series on the Middle East for the Post.

All students are invited to attend.

Summer Forms

• WOMEN STUDENTS interested in making application for summer and/or fall residence in Strong Hall should apply now in the Office of Women's Activities, second floor, Woodhull House.

Pre-Meds Congregate

• A MEETING of all pre-med students concerning changes in admission requirements will be held tomorrow, 12:45 p.m., Corcoran 100.

Last Event of Year

'Celebrity Capers' Slated for Saturday

• THE LAST MAJOR All-University social function of the year, the Fifth Annual Celebrity Capers, sponsored by the Newman Club, will be held Saturday, 9 to 12 p.m., Washington Hotel.

Two Debaters Enter Tourney

• JIM ROBINSON, sophomore, and Barlow Wagman, junior, will leave tomorrow to participate in the Sixth Annual National Invitational Debate Tournament at West Point, New York.

Robinson and Wagman, who received their invitation by virtue of their winning the Middle-Atlantic Regional Tournament at Georgetown several weeks ago, will be representing the University in its third attempt in four years for the coveted national title. University teams were invited in 1949 and 1951.

Thirty-four teams from all sections of the country will argue both sides of the national debating proposition: "Resolved, That the Federal Government should adopt a permanent program of wage and price controls." The defending national championship team from Redlands University, Redlands, California, will be seeking its second victory.

The debaters will be accompanied by Professor George Henigan, director of forensics, and will stop at Princeton University tomorrow afternoon for two debates.

Warmup debates were held with Georgetown University at a Sunday morning breakfast before the Politico Economic Forum in the Student Union and Monday afternoon against Wagner College.

Jack Morton and his orchestra will provide the music for the semi-formal dance. The club decided upon no flowers for the occasion, according to President Jim Kennedy.

Dean Myron L. Koenig, dean of the Junior College and Dr. Vera Mowry, assistant professor of English, will be the guests of honor. They will present scrolls to 10 outstanding seniors selected on the basis of popularity and service to the University.

Those receiving scrolls are: Bob Cilento, football and baseball; Margie Cole, secretary of the Student Council; Ralph Feller, Hatchet editor, and baseball; Bud Goglin, basketball and IFC; Ann Hudgins, Westminster Foundation and Religion-in-Life-Week; Ellen Ingersoll, Colonial Boosters and University Players; Dick Malzone, Newman Club and member-at-large of the Student Council; Penny Seleen, Newman Club; Bill Smith, vice-president of the Student Council and Career Conference, and Marie Willett, Cherry Tree.

Tickets, which in previous years have been $3.60 per couple, will be $3 this year. They may be obtained from 12 noon to 1 p.m. and 5 to 7 p.m. at a booth in the Student Union or from Miss Edie Harper in the Student Activities Office. Miss Harper can also arrange for group table reservations with a minimum of four couples per table.

Twin Violinists To Play With Choir

By BRUCE JANSSEN

• A SERIES of three Spring Concerts presented by the USAF Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Colonel George S. Howard will be inaugurated in Lisner Auditorium tonight, 8:30 p.m. Admission is free. Ensuing concerts will be held on Tuesdays, April 29 and May 6.

Petition Now For 1952-1953 Booster Staff

• THE COLONIAL Booster Board of 1951-1952 has announced that application forms for positions on next year's Booster staffs are now available in the Student Activities Office. All interested students should secure one of the applications and return it to Edie Harper not later than 5 p.m., Friday.

The Colonial Booster Board is a group of leaders forming the governing portion of Boosters. It consists of the chairman, secretary, treasurer, publicity director, membership drive chairman, booster section chairman, pep rally director, and special projects co-chairmen. Each of these members has a staff of approximately three people who carry out the plans formulated by the Board during the summer. These staff members have the opportunity to work themselves up to a position on the Board by displaying interest and leadership ability while working on one of these sub-committees.

Board Functions

The Board and its sub-committees sponsor and direct student support of school athletics through cooperation with the cheerleaders, and Colonial Booster members. Through these means the Board provides a creative outlet for school spirit, encourages the development of the University's athletic traditions, and sets up and endorses a procedure by which new students are acquainted with Colonial Boosters activities.

This past year Boosters successfully initiated and carried out the selective seating plan whereby Booster members are entitled to reserved seats between the 40-yard lines at all home games, the half-time entertainment, the door prize of two train tickets to Kentucky at the Furman Game, and bus service to nearby stadiums.

They also inaugurated campaigns to encourage the Booster members to accompany the team to Kentucky and the University of Virginia.

An additional treat for University students will be several selections by the Glee Club under the direction of Dr. Harmon. Bach's "Double Concerto," by the Biel twins, the world's only twin violinists, plus a rendition of "Serenade" from "The Student Prince" sung by tenor Captain John Tufts will also be held. Tufts' repertoire ranges from oratorio to popular hit songs.

Program Includes Massenet

Included in the orchestral portion of the program will be Rossini's, "La Gazza Ladra," Albert Williams' "Suite For String Orchestra," Benjamin Britton's arrangement of "Matinee Musicale" and Massenet's renowned ballet suite, "Le Cid."

As Commanding Officer and Conductor of the Band, which holds the distinction of being the only American band privileged to play for the Royal Garden party at Buckingham Palace, Colonel Howard's musical career has been colorful and versatile. Recipient of five degrees, he obtained his doctorate from the Chicago Conservatory of Music. His own wide range of experience which includes being a clarinetist, soloist, composer, conductor, and music educator, no doubt accounts for the adaptability of the USAF Band, which he has been in charge of since 1944.

AF Band Well-Traveled

Having appeared in ten world capitals on three continents, the USAF Band, of which the Symphony Orchestra is a small integral part, holds attendance records at Chicago's Soldier Field, Pittsburgh's Princess Gate Gardens, Glasgow's Green Playhouse, London's Royal Festival Hall, Trieste's San Giusto Castle, Luxembourg's Place D'Arms, and Washington's Capitol Plaza.

Captain John Tufts, executive officer to Colonel Howard, merited the following review from critic Kate Moe of the Southern Illinoisian: "It was a rare treat to hear a singer perform with such ease and fluency. He was at all time master of his instrument." Characteristic of that same versatility for which the USAF Band has established a world-wide reputation, Captain Tufts belongs to the group of concert artists equally at home on the operatic stage.

SC Presents Laws; Referendum Today

• TWENTY-THREE amendments to the Articles of Student Government will come before the students today and tomorrow in a special referendum.

Results of the Referendum will be announced on the SC Bulletin Board in front of the Student Union and over the PA system.

The objective of the proposed amendments is stated as follows: It being the stated belief of the Student Council that in order to encourage wider faculty and student support of school events, the activities and interests of the separate schools and colleges of the University must be drawn together in support of each other.

Hence, there are herewith set forth, among others, the constitutional amendments necessary for the Student Council to broaden and diversify its membership, without destroying the present functional core of Student Government, yet effectively linking together the activities and interests of the separate schools and colleges of the University.

Be it resolved:

(1) That Title I, Article III, Section A, of the Articles of Student Government be amended to add Paragraph 12 as follows:

"One Representative from each of the separate schools and colleges of the University." (Adds eight new members to Student Council, one representative from each school and college).

(2) That Title I, Article III, Section A, Paragraph 4 be amended, as follows: Delete the word "(non-voting)" (gives comptroller power to vote)

(3) That Title I, Article II, Section B, Paragraph 2 be amended to read as follows: "The duties of the Vice-President shall be to act as presiding officer in the absence of the President, and to act as assistant to the President in seeing that the duties of the Council and its members are performed as herein described. He shall also (See STUDENT COUNCIL Pg. 8)

Foggy Bottom

AH YES, SPRING is sprung, Fall is fell, Summer is here and hotter than . . . usual. Old man mercury is certainly taking a climp. Sunday, Foggy and Bottom noticed all the charming young ladies basking in the sunlight atop Strong Hall. Yes, sir, summer is really here.

Jim Matthews, AFROTC Cadet Major, was presenting an honorary commission to Lyn Henderson at the Cadet Hall last Friday. Everything was going well until Matthews came to the part of his spiel where he was to give Lyn a box of flowers. After starting out by saying, "And now a little token from the cadet corps," Matthews stopped. He got himself out of the situation by saying, "Oh well, it's a little token in a big box."

Sunday the Delts and the KD's were really whooping it up at their exchange. The Sigma Nu's also held an interesting exchange Sunday with the Kappas.

Phi Alpha had its "Hobo Hop" last Saturday night. Buddy Wolfe, Bob Goldstein, Harry Brandler and Al Solomon provided the music in their hobo costumes. A group of the Brothers have submitted the names of Ed Statland and Harold Messero for the Foggy Bottom water drinking award of the week. From their performances, they have it. They deserve it!

In the current happenings department, Foggy and Bottom are happy to announce the engagement of Dick Lowe of Acacia to Rose Gilles. Jim Bear of Sigma Nu is happily pinned to Roxane Shugart of Hood College. Twink Kelly of ADP1 is pinned to Kent McGinnis, Sig Ep from Pennsylvania. Bill Smith of Phi Sig is pinned to Abbie Oliver of DG.

SAE's Spring Formal was held a week ago Saturday at the Airport. The highlight of the evening was Mike Kitsoulis singing a solo. Paul Jennings had a good time at the dance and then proceeded to wake up the household when he slammed the door at Blake Miller's home afterward.

Jack Daly of PIKA is completing plans for a Beer club which will meet on Friday evenings. If interested, call the PI KA house.

If you are a varsity basketball, football, baseball player, or a Cadet Major you are eligible to watch cheerleading practice in the Tin Tabernacle every afternoon from 4 to 5:30 p.m. It seems that the only spectators thus far have been in those categories.

A stake truck seems to be standard transportation to Theta Delta Chi and DZ exchanges. Anyway that's what happened last Sunday. The brothers had been playing baseball and were apparently unaware of the time. Rushing in their baseball uniforms to the DZ rooms, complete with the truck, they hauled the sorority gals to the TDC house for their exchange.

Last Saturday evening Sigma Nu's Bill Marlowe and Phil Esple were stranded on Hains Point with Pi Phi's Louise Bieglow and Ada Lou Haines. After an interesting round of golf in the afternoon it seems that Louise's car keys mysteriously disappeared. "Sherlock" Marlowe just couldn't seem to remember who took them. "Ah, sweet mystery of life at last I've found thee, etc., etc."

Barbara Benner of Theta had a beach party to end all beach parties last Sunday afternoon. There was only one thing wrong. Who put the onions in the potato salad? Connie Atkins is strongly suspected.

Congratulations to the Kappa Sigs. Their thrilling performances of "Old Soldiers Never Die" in the Student Union are very nice. The group sings the song every time a glass is broken.

TKE pledge Tom Johnstone is pinned to Marilyn Kennedy of North Carolina State. How can a pledge be pinned? Tom says it's easy. He carries a safety pin around with him all the time—just in case.

Well kiddies, keep the news coming in to the Foggy Bottom basket and we'll print the red hot stuff. We can be threatened but makes no matter, we are here to serve the University.

Job Jots

Recreation Centers Need Summer Help

SIX LOCAL recreational organizations seeking summer help will be interviewing in Government, Room 1, 2 to 5 p.m. No appointments are necessary. New registrations for employment will be taken at that time if you bring student identification.

Sand Aids Synthetics

"SAND—the next thing to dirt—is now used to produce synthetic rubber and to water-proof clothing," stated Earl J. Smith, Washington manager of the Dow-Corning Corp., before the University student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

"Silicon resins, obtained from sand, are fulfilling the industrial need for a material with properties not affected by extremes of temperature," Smith said. "This has made silicone oils especially useful in high-altitude aircraft equipment," he added.

This property of remaining stable at all temperatures is characteristic of all silicone resins, according to Smith. Thus, synthetic rubber made of silicone resins is superior to natural rubber in its resistance to heat.

Fabrics treated with silicone resins have been found to be water-repellent.

Alcoa is interviewing today. American Can Co., Standard Vacuum Oil Co., are coming. Make appointments today.

JMA's, JPA's, SOC, SCI. Analysts, Physicists, Chemist, Engineers: If you are interested in a guided educational tour of the Naval Research Laboratory, and potentially available for employment there, let us know so that we may arrange a tour.

Education Holds Meet In Lisner

• "SCIENCE In the Elementary School," a conference sponsored by the School of Education, will be held Saturday, 9:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. Classroom teachers are invited to attend.

The conference is an attempt to answer common problems of elementary school science teachers in view of agreeing upon purposes of general science, selecting content, and materials.

The general session in Lisner, from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m., will include speeches, movies, and demonstrations. Glenn Blough, Paul Blackwood, Levin Hanigan, and Ethaline Daniels will speak on the "Problems and Objects of Elementary Science." They represent the US Office of Education and area school systems. A film strip, "Aviation in Science," and a demonstration on sound will be featured by pupils of Suitland Elementary School, Prince Georges County.

Nalley Gains Yearbook Title

• MISS JACQUELINE NALLEY, University freshman, has been chosen from among 15 candidates as Cherry Tree Queen, announced Marie Willett, editor-in-chief of the University's 1952 Cherry Tree yearbook.

New York fashion photographer, John Rawlings, was the judge, making his selection from photographs of the candidates. Miss Nalley is majoring in political science.

Formal crowning ceremonies will take place at the Celebrity Capers sponsored by the Newman Club, Saturday.

"Washington is our Campus" is the theme of the '52 Cherry Tree, featuring photographs of the city taken by staff photographers. General Ulysses S. Grant, III, former Trustee of the University, served as adviser to the yearbook staff.

Speech Contest Set for Seniors

• THE DEPARTMENT of Speech announces the annual Isaac Davis Public Speaking contest for Seniors, Wednesday, May 7, 8:30 p. m., Studio A. Lisner Auditorium.

Prizes totaling $60 were established by the Honorable Isaac Davis of Massachusetts in 1847. First place winner will receive $25; second place, $20, and third place, $15.

Any senior may enter the contest provided the baccalaureate degree is expected to be gained by the end of the current semester or by the end of the 1952 summer session. Rules of the contest call for original speeches on any subject the speaker desires, the time limits for the speeches are 6 to 10 minutes, and both the content and the delivery of the speeches will be considered by the judges.

Seniors desiring to compete for the Isaac Davis prizes must register their intentions with Professor George Henigan, Room 3, Speech Department, not later than May 2.

• DEENA SCHORR won first place in the annual Phi Sigma Kappa freshmen public speaking contest, Wednesday evening, in the Speech Department.

Miss Schorr, who spoke on "The American Inquisition," will receive a silver loving cup at the President's Awards Tea, May 25.

Alums Plan Art Display At Library

• AN EXHIBITION of sculpture and silver craft by Donald C. Kline and paintings by Alfred H. McAdams will be shown in the University Library, May 2 to 29. John Russell Mason, librarian and curator of art of the University, has announced.

Included in the sculpture display are an alabaster fish, a marble chiefton, a free form in soapstone, a torso in limestone, and a sea flight in driftwood. Work in ceramics, aluminum and different types of wood and marble will also be displayed. Crafted of silver are a necklace, candle holder, serving fork and spoon and a dish.

Abstract Expressionism

The 18 paintings to be shown by McAdams, a Washington artist, are abstract expressionism. Painted in oil, gouache, and opaque water color, the subjects include landscapes, interiors, and architecture.

Last year, Kline, associate professor of art at the University and president of the Washington Sculptors Group, received first prize in sculpture in the 59th annual exhibition of the Society of Washington Artists. He has participated in this exhibition and the annual area exhibition of the Corcoran Gallery of Art for the last three years. This year he has also participated in the exhibition of the Washington Sculptors Group, Richmond Museum of Fine Arts.

After receiving a Bachelor of Architecture from the University in 1927, Kline studied abroad, receiving a graduate diploma in architecture from Ecole des Beaux Arts, Fontainebleau, France. Later he was awarded a Master of Fine Arts from the Catholic University of America. A member of the University faculty since 1928, he has also served as assistant professor of architecture, and is a member of the Washington Society of Artists.

Also majoring in architecture, McAdams received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University. After studying at the Royal Academy in Stockholm, Sweden, and the Corcoran School of Art, he received a Master of Fine Arts from Indiana University.

McAdams Taught Design

McAdams is a member of the Washington Society of Artists and the Washington Artists Guild, and is employed by the Department of State as a graphic designer. He graduated from the Corcoran School of Art in 1942. He has taught design at the University, the Corcoran School of Art, and the University of Minnesota.

He has previously exhibited in the Whyte Gallery of Washington and in shows at the University of Minnesota and Indiana University. He won second water color prize in 1950 in the regional show at the Corcoran Gallery of Art, and first prize in oil in the 1942 student exhibition at the Corcoran School of Art.

Medics Get Grant

• A GRANT of $10,000 has been received by the University School of Medicine from the Lasdon Foundation for laboratory and clinical studies in tuberculosis.

Co-investigators will be Drs. Sol Katz, adjunct clinical professor of medicine, and Monroe J. Roman-sky, associate professor of medicine.

Studies will be made on the effects of various drugs, including isonicotinic derivatives, streptomycin, and PAS on the tubercle bacillus in the laboratory and with patients. Tests will be made of the drugs' effectiveness singly and in combinations.

Lyn Henderson Wins ROTC Vote

• CAPTAIN WILLIAM SMITH of the Air Force ROTC pins an orchid on lovely Lyn Henderson selected first squadron sponsor at the first AFROTC ball last Friday.

• THE UNIVERSITY'S unit of the Air Force ROTC followed the tradition of the cadet corps when they decided to elect a corps of co-ed AFROTC sponsors.

Lyn Henderson was elected first squadron sponsor at the first AFROTC annual military ball, last Friday, the Naval Gun Factory's Officer Club. Three flight sponsors will be elected in the near future.

Sponsors Elected

The corp of sponsors is elected by popular vote of the cadets. During their year as active sponsors, they will participate in AF ROTC functions. At the end of the year they will receive Honorary membership in the sponsors corp. Also, new group of actives will be elected.

Miss Henderson received an honorary cadet major's commission at the ball last Friday. She was escorted to the ball by cadet John Buckingham. Yesterday she presented the colors at an AFROTC review.

Lynn Active on Campus

Miss Henderson was one of the finalists for Homecoming Queen. She helped write and direct this year's sophomore follies skit and last year's Goat Show.

Miss Henderson is social chairman of Chi Omega sorority, and a member of the Inter-sorority Athletic Board.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"YOUR HAIR looks as though it's been in the rein, deer," a campus Caribou told Sheedy. "If you want to horn in on the sororities, it might behoove a man of your ilk to try Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's Favorite Hair Tonic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Non-alcoholic. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. Relieves annoying dryness. Removes moose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test!" Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now no girl wonders whether he's man or moose! If your moose is cooked by unruly hair, collect a little doe and take a taxi-dermist to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. And ask for it on your hair at the barber shop so your deer won't think you've let herd down. (What she'll say will be moose-ic to your ears!)

Proposals

• TOMORROW the student body of the University will ballot on the amendments to the Student Council constitution.

It is the belief of the Student Council that the new recommendations will encourage and widen faculty and student support of University functions. By forming councils in each of the University schools, it is felt that the divergent groups will be drawn together. The main suggestion will allow the formation of councils in the school of Education, Columbia College, Junior College, School of Government and School of Medicine. Governing bodies have already been set up in the schools of Law, Engineering and Pharmacy. A representative from each of these above schools will serve on the Student Council, plus the original Council members, as voting members. The representatives will be allowed to vote after approval of their council by Student Life. It will be the representative's duty to coordinate, plan and stimulate activities and events in his own school. If no council has been formed in his school it will be his responsibility to form one, working in conjunction with the Vice-President of the Student Council. The idea of a student senate had been the first Council consideration, but it was felt that the student body was not yet ready to try such an innovation.

The second recommendation will eliminate the class officers. By this abolition worthless offices will be replaced by the more efficient representatives from each school. In a university set-up such as ours class position is seldom clear cut. The Council of Vice-Presidents initiated three years ago will also be abolished. Originally begun to tighten student activities, the Council of Vice-Presidents failed to prove the necessary spark.

In the restatement of council duties, the position of the vice-president will be broadened by allowing him to co-ordinate the organization of the various councils and to supervise the workings of the representatives.

The Comptroller will become a voting member of the Council and will be elected by the students. He will no longer receive $50 a term for his work. It is also planned that the Freshman Director will be aided in freshman orientation by the representative of the Junior College.

An additional suggestion will allow graduate students to hold office.

All in all if the student body passes the proposed referendum an opportunity for greater faculty and student co-operation in student events will go into effect immediately.

On Other Campuses

Dead Giveaway

By DAVE HERMAN

• APRIL is gripe month throughout the collegiate realm. It is student election time, and hopeful candidates start their own fault-finding purge offering reform and improvement in exchange for votes. Administration policies, student governments, collegiate attitudes and campus organizations are criticized and condemned by party members as part of their campaign. For weeks the school is enthralled in the spirit and confusion of reform.

Senior service honoraries of New York University long criticized for their narrow-minded manner of selecting deserving students for membership, are about to get the broom regarding their method of selection. This change in the attitude of the administration will emphasize "how many worthy students we can get in rather than how many we can keep out."

Hall of Fame First

First of the honorary organizations to be rapped was the Student Hall of Fame. Dean of the university, a member of the faculty committee selecting members for the organization, reveals that previous selections were "colored by tradition, personality clashes and deals." The main problem with the honorary, he admitted, was "resting control of membership selection in student hands while making sure certain students were given a fair evaluation as to their qualifications."

Mass. U. in Uproar

The University of Massachusetts is in an uproar because an amendment allowing campus women to attend mixed social functions unchaperoned were rejected by the Dean of Women. President of the university requested action on the legality of the rejection saying "it is my belief that this matter has not been considered through the proper channels as required by the laws governing the Student Government and the Student Life Committee."

The recommended policy change was passed by a joint student-faculty Student Life Committee, and referred to the Dean of Women for final approval. In rejecting the amendment the Dean of Women stressed that it is "the responsibility of the committee on women's affairs to vote regulations which will promote conditions on campus conducive to the best standards, and they should be hesitant to change policies that might mean a lowering of the standards."

Dean of Women Responsible

Comments from the students show that they realize the Dean of Women is responsible for the conduct of the women on the campus, but they feel that such disapproval is unwarranted since college students deserve respect and confidence. The student body strongly opposed the rejection believing that the presence of a chaperon would not stop any infraction of rules or etiquette if that was the intention.

The Daily Kansan from the University of Kansas deplors foreign language instruction as improper and ineffectual. Claiming language courses are not conducted correctly, the editorial states that such study is worthless since most students do not learn how to speak, write or read foreign languages after two or three semesters of learning.

Oils Mental Mechanism

The paper credits the study for being purposeful in oiling a student's mental mechanism and for giving them a better understanding of their own language, but it does not concede that these objectives will convince the average freshman or sophomore of the value of study.

As a remedy the editorial suggests an intensified course of study whereby the student would learn a language without any disconcerting influences. Monotony could be relieved by employing different teachers, by using different techniques (during the same course and by studying the culture and history of the country involved. Foreign students from the respective countries should be invited to act as proctors to facilitate discussion and study.

A ridiculous complaint is uttered by Michigan State News of the Michigan State University who frowns upon saluting of cadet officers as part of the training for ROTC students. According to the group commander the plan will "make training at college as realistic as possible to prepare cadets for what is almost inevitable service in the armed forces." He adds that he does not want the order "construed as an attempt to militarize the campus."

Drill Grounds May Be Extended

Regardless of the ideals expressed by the ROTC governing body the State News is afraid that the saluting area, now confined to drill grounds, would be extended to include the whole campus, and that other military matters, such as the wearing of uniforms everyday to class, would involve the whole school. Fears have also been expressed that the saluting process would cause a major dissent among the student ROTC contingent when some of the officers take advantage of their newly acquired power and make more use of it than having it apply as a gesture of respect and recognition.

Where Are They?

To the Editors:

• I HAVE NOTICED various articles in The Hatchet recently referring to copies of The Cherry Tree going on sale, etc. These articles have contained: "You may reserve your copy at the booth in the Student Union lobby, any day from 12 to 1 p.m. and 5 to 6 p.m." Such is not the case, as related below:

Tuesday, April 8th, I went to the Student Union lobby for the third time to find that the booth was not manned. I then asked the student in the manager's office about this. He replied: "I don't know, should there be someone there?" I related the article in the Hatchet and he shrugged his shoulders and replied, "Inefficient bunch, aren't they?" Still wanting to reserve a copy, I telephoned the University twice on Wednesday, the 9th, but there was no answer at the Cherry Tree office. I was then referred to the Student Union. Again, the person in charge knew nothing, and said apparently there should be someone there, but there wasn't from 12 to 1 and he had no assurance that there would be anyone there that evening. I then tried to call the Hatchet office. No answer. The operator then told me that Miss Marie Willett was the Editor of the annual and gave me the telephone number of Strong Hall. In dismay, tried again. Not in.

How does one go about reserving a copy of The Cherry Tree?

Thanks

To the Editors:

• I WANT TO THANK you and your staff for the cooperation that you gave us in the way of front page advertisement in the Hatchet for the marriage forum that we held March 25.

We had anticipated a crowd of thirty or more and we crowded the room with over a hundred students, having to turn another fifth or so away due to lack of space. This crowd was due in measure to the aid of you and your staff.

We have a follow-up program planned for the latter part of this month and hope to have facilities to hold as many as can come. Thank you for your very kind assistance to us.

Buff Beauty

• LEILA COHEN, attractive brunette, is this week's selection for Buff Beauty.

Leila is a member of Phi Sigma Sigma social sorority.

She has been a delegate from Phi Sigma Sigma to the Panhellenic Council, a member of the University Players, Tassels, and the University Glee Club.

She was a candidate last semester for the title of Homecoming Queen from Phi Sigma ma and a candidate for Cherry Tree Queen. In the Homecoming Queen contest she was selected as one of the ten finalists.

Leila is a sophomore planning to major in English literature. She is engaged to Edward Shapiro and plans a wedding in June.

'Poison' Cuts Muscle Tension In Operations

By IRVING SHAPIRO

• TWO UNIVERSITY anesthesiologists reported that a synthetic "poison"—similar to that used by South American savages to tip their poison arrows—has been effective in reducing muscle tension in abdominal surgery.

Dr. Charles S. Coakley and Dr. G. H. Spencer told members of the Southern Society of Anesthesiologists at New Orleans last week, that syncurine, a synthetic curare preparation, had produced "satisfactory results" in 2,403 cases of lower abdominal surgery and internal tests. The report was considered to be the most comprehensive made since the synthetic anesthesia aid was introduced in 1950.

Curare Is Relaxant

The accepted muscle relaxant has been curare, a highly toxic dried extract of various forms of a South American plant. Extracts of this plant originally were used by natives of the region as poison on the tips of their darts or arrows.

Curare paralyzes the motor end part of the nerves. It has been used in abdominal surgery, in reduction of spasms, in shock treatment and with victims of spasmodic types of paralysis.

Dr. Coakley said syncurine, a laboratory-produced compound, was better than curare in surgery because it produced less histamine. Over production of histamine, in some cases, could cause a partial closure of the bronchial (windpipe) tubes.

Small Amount Used

The principal value of curare and its laboratory brother, syncurine, is that their use reduces the amount of anesthesia which must be administered.

When large amounts of ether or other anesthetic agents are used to produce complete relaxation, recovery time may be delayed and the incidence of nausea and vomiting is increased.

However, the two doctors said, when either curare or syncurine is injected into the blood stream at the time of surgery, the amount of anesthesia can be reduced. There appears to be no after-effects in the use of the muscle relaxants.

Child-Birth Aided

Obstetricians have reported that use of syncurine has been helpful in child-birth, although it does act as a depressant on the newborn child.

Since syncurine is effective for 30 minutes at most, its use is limited to surgery of short duration. Repeated doses, the University physicians reported, are less effective than the first dose in producing satisfactory relaxation.

They're Sitting in Philly For a Caravan to D.C.

• THE TROUBLES of being an editor! How they are felt by the Cherry Tree staff these days.

The yearbooks were to be delivered on schedule, this year which would have been something to sit up and take notice about. Cherry Tree staffers had worked dutifully in order to get the books off to the printers in time for early distribution.

But, alas, fate keeps happening to the Cherry Tree. With the books all loaded on the van and everything set for delivery in Washington last Wednesday, the editors were notified that, due to the necessity for lowering operating expenses and all sorts of extenuating circumstances like that the books could not be sent out unless there was a convoy of trucks leaving Philadelphia for Washington.

As a result of all this rigamarole 800 odd Cherry Trees are sitting quietly in a van in Philadelphia waiting for several other trucks to join the convoy.

Maybe they'll be here today, tomorrow, or who knows when?

University Counseling Center Offers Vocation Test Program

By MARILYN LEBOWITZ

• IF YOU ARE having trouble selecting an occupation, the vocational guidance program of the University's Counseling Center can help you solve your problems.

The Counseling Center, located at 2114 G Street, offers a program of tests and interviews to appraise the vocational potentialities of those people who cannot decide what occupation to pursue. Under the direction of Leonard Vaughan, the services of the center are open to University students, high school students, and adult members of the community.

Conducts Tests

Edward J. Goemaat and Howard J. Freas, Jr., counselor-psychometricians, conduct the interviews and administer the tests. At the first appointment they interview the client to get material on his educational, social, and home background.

Then they administer a battery of tests consisting of an interest test, the Army General Classification scholastic aptitude test, and finally a test of personality adjustment. If serious personality problems are uncovered, the client is referred to a clinical psychologist or psychiatrist. The Counseling Center will only attempt to handle minor personality problems. Before leaving, the client is asked to write a brief autobiographical sketch.

Psychiatrist Interpret Results

The results of the first tests and interview are interpreted for the client during the second appointment. On the basis of the first tests, specific aptitude tests are then given in the fields where the client showed potentialities.

During the third appointment the finding of all the tests, interviews, and autobiography are integrated for and discussed with the client. Occupational literature on the fields being considered is available. At this time the client usually makes tentative plans as to which vocation he will enter.

Educational guidance programs are conducted by the Counseling Center in a similar manner except that plans are made on a long range basis. The objective of the educational program is to help the client to plan proper curriculum and offer information on specialized schools.

To evaluate the results of these guidance programs, the center has planned a long range follow-through program. Clients are called six months and a year after the completion of their program to see if they have acted on the decision previously made and if they are happily adjusted in the occupation choice. In cases where the education guidance programs required long term schooling as a prerequisite to the vocation, the client is called after he has finished the schooling and has started working.

Insight Into Requirements

Goemaat and Freas emphasized the fact that they do not tell clients what vocation is the right one for them to enter. Instead, they give the client an insight into the occupational requirements of the various vocations and their potentialities to meet these requirements.

Players Star On Local TV

• ELECTION OF officers for the fall term will take place at the next meeting of the University Players, April 30.

Reports on radio and television work will be made at the meeting which will feature a recorded radio skit with members of the Players taking part. Refreshments will be served.

Tennessee Williams' one-act drama "Portrait of a Madonna" was presented at the last Players meeting. Featured in the cast were Gay Fullerton, Georg Tenyson, Gloria Johnson, Graham Stevenson, and Elizabeth Evans. The play was directed by Harold Cohen.

A television program has established an audition arrangement with the Players for selecting talent for appearance on the program. Liz Johnstone appeared on the program, Milton Q. Ford's Variety Show, last Wednesday.

Have You Met?

Nan Recieves Praise For Varied Activities

• FROM FENCER to Freshman Director of the Student Council, that's Nancy Dilli, one of the most versatile and popular seniors on campus.

Her election to Who's Who this year tops the list of her many honors. This recognition results from a long list of activities including editor and business manager of the Student Handbook.

Chairman of Drives

In SC capacity she was acting as a member of the Board of Publications. In the past, Nancy has focused her attention on numerous athletic activities, Cherry Tree, and Big Sisters. This fall she served as executive assistant for the annual Career Conference, Chairman of the American Relief for Korea Clothing Drive, and also Chairman of the Christmas Doll Collection Drive.

Nancy, who is indeed a doll herself, also shines in Greek life. Petite and poised, she was Sigma Nu's candidate for Homecoming Queen last fall, and treasurer of Delphi, honorary for sorority women. In her own sorority, Chi Omega, Nancy has been model pledge, secretary, and president for two years; all of which won for her a plaque as the "Outstanding Member" of the chapter.

Plans European Trip

A resident of Washington, D. C.,

Nancy is majoring in Business Administration and plans to travel to Europe after graduating in June. She adds, "That's just wishful thinking; I'll probably be here four more years."

When asked what her ambition was, Nancy replied, "I've always wanted to drive down G Street the wrong way." Need we add that she's a very unusual girl? Quite a Dilli, this Nancy! C.K.

Be Happy-Go Lucky!

In a cigarette, taste
makes the difference—
and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky... for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco... fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better... proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

Exams are coming round once more,
And cramming is the style—
But just the taste of Lucky Strike
Will guarantee a smile!

Proposed Student Council Amendments

represent the Student Council in regard to special projects;" (adds to duties of Vice-President).

(4) That Title I, Article II, Section B, Paragraph 4 be stricken from the Articles of Student Government; (denies pay for services of comptroller).

(5) That Title I, Article III, Section B, Paragraph 6 be amended to read as follows: "The duties of the Freshman Director shall be to organize and direct in conjunction with the Representative of the Junior College, and subject to the approval of the Student Council, a program at the beginning of each term designed to orient entering students;" (redefines duties of Freshman Director).

(6) That Title I, Article III, Section B, Paragraph 7 be amended to add the following:

"The Secretary shall also post each week on the Student Union bulletin board, the current minutes of the proceedings of the Student Council, and in addition shall send a copy of these minutes weekly to the President of the University;" (adds to duties of Secretary).

(7) That Title I, Article III, Section B, Paragraph 8 be amended as follows: Delete the words, "and to class offices;" (eliminates reference to class offices).

(8) That Title I, Article III, Section B be amended to add Paragraph 12 as follows: "The duties of each Representative shall be to represent his school or college in planning, coordinating, and stimulating the student activities and joint student-faculty functions of the University and its schools and colleges."

If a student governing body does not exist in his school or college, it shall be the initial and concurrent duty of the representative to organize such a body, within nine calendar months from the date of his entry into office, working in conjunction with the Vice-President of the Student Council;" (defines the duties of the new council members).

(9) That Title I, Article III, Section B, be amended to add Paragraph 13 as follows: "It shall be the further duty of each member of the Student Council to keep an accurate, concise record of his Council activities throughout his term of office, and to pass on these records to his successor in office."

"It shall be the further duty of each member to send a substitute to every regular meeting of the Student Council which he himself cannot attend;" (adds new duties to all council members).

(10) That Title I, Article IV, Section A, be amended to read as follows: "The members of the Student Council, except Representatives, are to be selected by the Student Body at large, between April 1 and May 10 of each year, and shall take office at the end of that term for a period of one year;" (restates election rules).

(11) That Title I, Article IV, Section B, be amended to add the following: "In addition, all students wishing to become candidates for Council positions other than those of Representative must file notice of intent, in the Office of Student Activities, not later than the date specified by the elections committee;" (adds to election rules).

(12) That Title I, Article IV, Section C, Paragraph 1 be amended to read as follows:

"General Qualifications

a. He shall have a Quality Point Index of at least 2.0 and shall not be on probation.

b. He shall have completed, at the time he takes office, at least three terms in residence at the George Washington University, having completed at least thirty-six credit hours. This requirement shall not conflict with Title I, Article IV, Section C, Paragraph 2d.

c. He shall not have been at this and/or any other institution of higher learning for more than seven years inclusively;" (changes qualifications for holding offices, allows graduate students to hold these offices).

(13) That Title I, Article IV, Section C, Paragraph 2 be amended to read as follows:

"Special Qualifications

a. President and Vice-President shall have completed, at the time they take office, at least five terms at the George Washington University, having completed at least sixty credit hours.

b. Representatives of a school or college shall not expect to graduate from that school or college within their term of office.

c. The Student Comptroller shall have completed at least one year's study in the principles of accounting.

d. The Representative of the Junior College shall have completed, at the time he takes office, at least two terms in residence at the George Washington University, having completed at least twenty-four credit hours;" (sets up special qualifications for certain council members).

(14) That Title I, Article IV, Section D, Paragraph 3 be amended to read as follows: "To sponsor at least one forum at which all candidates, except those for the positions of Representatives, may present their platforms;" (allows separate schools to supervise elections of their candidates for council members.)

(15) That Title I, Article IV, Section D, Paragraph 4 be amended to read as follows: "To provide a prepared ballot and to supervise polling and counting of the ballots, for all candidates except those for the positions of Representatives;" (same as above).

(16) That Title I, Article IV be amended to add Sections F, G, H, as follows:

"Section F. The student governing body of each school or college shall provide, between April 1 and May 10 of each year, a Student Council Representative, who will thereupon take office for a term of one year. Each candidate for Representative shall meet the provisions of Section C of Article IV. Where no student governing body exists in a school or college, the Student Council shall, between April 1 and May 10 of that year, solicit petitions from qualified students of that school or college, and shall select one petitioner from each of said schools as a Representative;" (provides for selecting the eight new representatives).

"Section G. The following are designated as separate schools and colleges by the University, and as such shall each be qualified to have one Representative from their student governing body serving as a member of the Student Council: The School of Engineering, the School of Law, the School of Medicine, the School of Pharmacy, the School of Government, the School of Education, the Columbian College, and the Junior College;" (defines separate schools and colleges).

"Section H. A Representative shall be given full voting privileges on the Student Council whenever the student governing body of his school or college is recognized by the Student Council and the Student Life Committee." (States when vote shall be given to new members).

(17) That Title I, Article V be stricken in its entirety from the Articles of Student Government; (eliminates class offices and officers).

(18) That Title I, Article VII, Section A be stricken in its entirety from the Articles of Student Government; (allows the student comptroller to be popularly elected).

(19) That Title I, Article IX be amended to strike out Section C; (redefines procedure for special elections).

(20) That Title I be amended to add Article X as follows:

"Section A. Upon the resignation or removal from office of the President, the Vice-President shall succeed to the Presidency."

"Section B. A vacancy in the office of any member other than the President or a Representative shall, if more than one-half of the term of office remains, be filled by a special election held within one month after the vacancy occurs: If less than one-half of the term remains, the Student Council shall fill the vacancy by appointment;" (same as above).

Soph's Fast Talking Beans Win Follies

• ABOVE ARE SCENES from the four skits, composing the All-University Follies, which was held April 9. The top three shots are of the first-place sophomore skit, Jack and The Beans Talk. From left to right, Lyn Henderson, the Kidney Bean, makes her dramatic exit. In the second picture, Verlyn Brown, the mother, stands triumphantly over the Giant, John Holup. On the far right Nell Weaver, the Navy Bean, explains the joys of the nautical life. On the bottom row, from left to right, the freshmen are burying Sandy Mitchell, Old Man River. In the second picture Bino Barriera reads the death sentence to Ellen Wyvill (not pictured) in the runner-up Junior skit. In the last picture Salvatore Inzinna leads the senior chorus in "There Is Nothing Like a Kiss."

Reviewer Thinks Junior Rebels Coherent, Orderly

By GEORG TENNYSON

• "JACK AND THE BEANS TALK" did it for the Sophomore Class this year when they won the Third Annual All-U Follies over the second-place winner and defending champions, the Junior Class.

Recasting the familiar story of Jack and the Beanstalk the Sophomore skit was highlighted by the spirited performances plus better than average singing voices of Verlyn Brown and Bob Mackie and the amusing Bean Chorus which was topped off by Nell Weaver's Navy Bean.

Mom Gets Giant

In the Sophomore version of the nursery tale, Jack plays the races, encouraged in his schemes by a more than modern mother (Verlyn Brown). The maid (Janie Miller) is sold by the mother for some beans (the Bean Chorus) who eventually grow up so that Jack and Mom can get at the Giant in the clouds and regain Goldie. The ending is appropriately happy with Mom getting the Giant (John Holup in a baseball uniform) and Goldie getting Jack.

The second-place Juniors came through with a skit that might well have won first, especially on the grounds of co-ordination and coherency. "A Rebel in King Arthur's Court" featured Ellen Wyvill's honey-coated Southern accent as Blanche O'Hara, George Buckmaster's besotted King Arthur, Ruth Ann Parker's icy Queen Guinevere, and Frank Continetti's un-romantic Lancelot.

Maid Chases Man

It seems that Blanche O'Hara was given twenty-four hours to get a man on pain of death, and she set her sights on Lancelot. No manners of persuasion or even drugs from Merlin were able to win Lancelot, but during the chase the audience was presented with some very pleasant singing from Frank Continetti and a delightfully adept performance from Ellen Wyvill.

"The History of the Kiss" was the senior class' offering for the Follies. This skit was composed of a series of individual sketches each displaying another development in the history of osculation. Bill Scarrow as Mae West and Bud Goglin as W. C. Fields providing one of the most amusing of the individual scenes as did Betty Silverman and Joe Inzinna with their portrayal of the kiss in Brooklyn.

Seniors Lack Taste

Despite an overall smoothness of performance, which seemed to indicate a good bit of rehearsing, the Senior skit suffered generally from rather poor taste both in selection of subject matter in certain of the sketches and in certain of the lines throughout the show.

Student Council Passes New Pharmacy Council

• THE CONSTITUTION of the Pharmacy Council was presented to Student Council by Dick Malzone, member-at-large, and was approved. The Pharmacy Council will be composed of seven members, one from each class, and one from each branch.

It was decided that Student Council elections would be held Wednesday and Thursday, April 30 and May 1. The referendum on the Council Reorganization Plan will be presented at the same time for approval. Students will vote for a comptroller under the new voting specifications, with the stipulation that should the amendments not meet with student approval, his name will be removed.

Bill Deck, activities chairman, reported that there will be a rehearsal of the May Day Program next week.

A discussion concerning next year's Activities Calendar produced several suggestions. It was ventured that an explanation of closed nights be placed on the Student Union schedule, and that tentative dates be starred or identified in some way.

Art Classes Set

• THE CORCORAN School of Art announces summer classes in painting, drawing and watercolor beginning June 3 and continuing to July 28, 1952.

Classes are scheduled from Monday through Friday—morning, 9 a.m. to 12 noon; 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Eugene Weisz, vice-principal in charge will conduct the sessions in Outdoor Landscape and Composition, and Byron Browne will teach Still Life, Figure and Composition.

Marks, Hillel Win Ping Pong

Displaying a blazing fast offensive game combined with a tight defense, Walter Marks, 28 year old sophomore representing Hillel, won the All-University singles ping pong championship. He defeated Eddie Beale by scores of 21-11, 12-21, 21-10.

Marks breezed through the final round, held in the University Gym last week end, in quick fashion. He won three straight matches and six of seven games. He lost but one game and that to his final opponent, Beale, who had few chances to return Mark's strong "killer" shots.

Hillel also took the Independent team title as a result of Mark's victory. Intramural Director Krupa had decided earlier that since there were too few teams entered in that category, the singles winner would also win for his team. Hillel teammates in the final round were Ken Bonwit and Irving Shapiro.

A Foreign Affairs major, Marks had also won a Ping Pong title while in the service.

Freas Touted as Lineman to Watch

• IT LOOKS as though Don Freas will be the man to watch in the newly remodeled Varsity line, on the Colonial football team, when they begin their season next September.

Freas, a 6' 2", 200 pound tackle, is reported to have shown well in the spring practices which have recently been completed. A graduate of Silver Spring, Maryland's Montgomery Blair high school, Freas played football under the tutelage of Reno Continetti, former Buff lineman. He is the brother of Frank Continetti, at present GW's ace defensive tackle and a member of the All-Southern Conference football squad named last year.

Knows T Formation

It was at Blair that Freas became familiar with the T formation which coach Bo Roland has recently installed as the one from which the Colonial squad will run next season. He said that he saw very little difference in the blocking assignments between the T and the single-wing attack used by the Buff previously. He had no trouble last year in learning his duties as a freshman with the single-wing, and that it had been fairly easy for him to switch back. At Blair, Freas played both guard and tackle, and his fine work in both of these spots came to the attention of his alumnus-coach, and thus to the attention of the Buff athletic department.

Happy at University

A serious Business Administration student, Freas reported that it was the University's educational reputation and a desire to be near to his home that made GW his choice of colleges. Just completing his first year here, the 18-year-old Freas said that he was very happy with his choice.

Baseball

ning off Bob Fredericks, who had relieved Drake on an error by the pitcher, two walks, and Roger Franz's long fly.

GW picked up two runs in the fifth and one in the sixth. Fordham scored one in the first, another in the sixth, and two in the seventh.

GW knocked out four safeties including Steve Korchek's double. Korchek's hit broke his five game batting slump.

GW, 5-W&M 1

George Sengstack held the W&M Indians to five hits, as the Indians committed five errors, and the Colonials ended up with its second win in eight games, both over W&M and both won by Sengstack, who is now 2-2.

GW sealed the game up in the fourth inning when they scored three runs off Warren Rutledge. Lou Ciarrocca and Steve Burda both reached base on consecutive errors by Miodzewsky, the Indian shortstop, and they both scored when Jack Tivnan's fly ball hit Bill Bowman, the W&M leftfielder, on the chest. Steve Korchek forced Tivnan, and then scored as Sengstack and Barreira singled.

They picked up their last two runs in the fifth when Ciarrocca again reached first on an error and went to second when the ball was overthrown. Burda singled him across and went to second on the throw in to home plate. Ray Fox then sent Burda across with GW's fifth run.

W&M scored their lone run in the ninth when Cofe homered, thereby preventing Sengstack from racking up a shutout.

Sengstack's control was perfect as he walked no men and struck out four. Bobby Cilento and Jack Tivnan each had two hits apiece.

The win gave GW a 2-1 Southern Conference record, not including yesterday's game with V. P. I.

GW, 14-Virginia 7

Ray Fox's grand slam round tripper in the eighth inning was the highlight of GW's 14 run rout of the University of Virginia Cavaliers. Bob Cilento also smacked a circuit blow for the Buff and Blue and Steve Korchek connected for two resounding triples.

GW's big inning was the seventh when they scored seven times. Virginia had one big inning, the fourth, when they scored six runs off Joe Kenelly making his first appearance of the year. He had

Shreve Called Net Dean

• BILL SHREVE, short, goodlooking, fortyish, is a man who has turned his hobby into a profitable business. Owner of the Tennis Shop located at 1129 19 Street, N.W., Bill has been in the tennis business since 1929.

In 1929 Bill and Bob Considine, now a successful newspaperman, headed one of the University's most formidable tennis teams. Both players, then in their senior year, discovered that the Hoover Bros., "tennis stringers", wanted to sell their business. Along with their tennis coach, W. S. Holt, an associate professor of history at the University, they formed an unbeatable trio and purchased the Hoover Bros. Company, lock, stock, and barrel.

Holt furnished the main part of the capital, Considine was to be the outside agent bringing in the business. They were then located at 1013 15 Street, N.W.

In 1932 Holt, the part-time tennis coach and history professor, decided to leave the University. The other two partners made a cash settlement with him for his share of the business. By this time the volume of business was increasing and the Tennis Shop moved down the block to 1019 15 Street, a more lucrative location.

Two years later Considine, who had quit a job with the State Department to write a tennis column which took all his time, decided to sell his share of the business. Thus Bill Shreve became the full owner of the Tennis Shop.

Today, twenty years later, Bill is considered the dean of tennis in the Washington metropolitan area. His Tennis Shop has vastly expanded and is considered the hub of most tennis activities in the area. From his initial venture of just "racquet stringing" he now handles all phases of tennis, badminton and squash, including apparel essential to the games.

Although never an outstanding tennis player even during his college days, Bill has taken an active part in the developing of junior and senior players and also in managing their tournaments. In addition, he has handled the affairs of the annual Middle Atlantic Tennis Association tournament several times. The Middle Atlantic tournament held at the Kenwood Country Club is one of the outstanding tournaments on the east coast.

Bill has seen all the good players come and go over the years. He nominates as the top players he has seen during his years of experience, the 1929-35 era: Bob Considine, Dee Mitchell, Clarence Charest, three times national veterans champion, and Tom Mangan. He nominates Barney Welsh, Gil Hunt, nationally ranked eight times, Dave Johnsen, Frank Shore, and Hugh Lynch for the 1935-44 era. The current stars named were Barney Welsh (yet), Jim Thackara, and bright young stars, Gil Bogely, Ted Rogers, and Tim Coss.

It is apparent that tennis is becoming an increasingly popular sport not only in Washington but throughout the nation. Washington itself is considered an excellent tennis town. No official tabulation can be given as to the number of local participants annually, but a safe estimate would be approximately 20,000.

According to Bill, tennis players can be broken down in three groups. (1) The players belonging to country clubs who have the benefit of the professional tennis shops. This group as a rule tries to develop outstanding players, but not solely. (2) The players not belonging to the clubs but who want to become good amateur players and take advantage of opportunities offered by the D. C. Tennis Association, and the D. C. Recreation Association. (3) Those who have no interest in tennis other than recreation.

Bill, in collaboration with Pauline Betz Addie, former National Womens Champion, is now conducting a coed tennis clinic for the general public at the YWCA.

In all his service to the area's tennis enthusiasts and his additional chores as varsity tennis coach at the University, Bill has made a lot of personal contact but by no means has a monopoly of the tennis business. Competition with the sporting goods stores is strenuous at times and at other times a welcome relief. Year in and year out he has served tennis well.

League A

• PHI ALPHA continued to be the team to beat in League A, as it swept into undisputed possession of first place. By virtue of its two wins last Sunday, the Phi Alpha has a record of four wins and no losses. Phi Sigma Kappa and Tau Kappa Epsilon pulled into a second place tie, both teams holding a 2-2 record.

Phi Alpha 16, Theta Delta Chi 6

Phi Alpha pitcher Charlie Goldberg gave his team its third straight win, with the help of many Theta Delta errors and some fine fielding by his mates. The best example of this was a glamorous over-the-head catch by Don Willarsky, which would have been a Bill Fletcher home run for the Theta Deltas. Tony Theorello was the losing pitcher.

Phi Alpha 11, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 1

The Sig Eps were able to push across only one run, as they were baffled by Charlie Goldberg's offerings. While the SAE's committed a few important errors, they were not able to muster enough hits to sink the hot-shot Phi Alphas. John Buckingham went the rout for the losers.

Kappa Alpha 17, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 16

This game took the record for length if not quality, as it went into a reported 17 innings, although there were conflicting reports as to its length. Erling Falk started the game for the losers, only to be relieved by John Buckingham after his arm tired. Like the other games, this one was typified by a surplus of errors.

Tau Kappa Epsilon 10, Theta Delta Chi 2

In a game with more errors, the Tekes won their second game of the season, with Al Bruffey hurling for the winners and Tony Theorello losing his second game of the day for the Theta Deltas.

Phi Sigma Kappa 15, Kappa Alpha 12

Cy Beckman and Brax Green homered for the losers as Ferd Cordano won his first game of the season for the Phi Sigs. Spence Palmer pitched for the losers.

Phi Sigma Kappa 15, Tau Kappa Epsilon 4

Ferd Cordano won his second game of the day and the season, as he downed the Tekes on four runs. Al Bruffey, who had previously downed the Theta Deltas, was the loser.

League B1

Tau Epsilon Phi took over the lead in League B1, with Sunday in this league being notable chiefly in confusion. The reports wending their way into this office seem to say that some sort of confusion some place caused two of the games, in which the PIKA's were concerned, to be called off.

In the first of these, in which the PIKA's were to meet the Kappa Sigs, was a dispute with some Interior Department team over the rights of a diamond, the dispute being settled by having both fraternity teams taken from the diamond by the Park Police. And a good time was had by all.

Tau Epsilon Phi 6, Sigma Chi 5

In a game for which no information was available except for the score, TEP clinched their present lead in this division.

Kappa Sigma 13, Sigma Chi 7

A double play, a rare animal in inter-fraternity competition, was the highlight of this game, won by Kappa Sig pitcher Arnie Solis, who gave up 7 hits, and lost by Sig Dutch Dantz.

Tau Epsilon Phi, scheduled to meet the PIKA's, was involved in the other dispute-of-the day, and their game with the Pikes will be played at a later date.

League B2

Delta Tau Delta jumped into the lead in their division and their league with a 4-0 record for the season. The happenings in this division seem to be an even darker secret than those in the other division. Lack of contact with the contestants left only the scores available.

Other Scores

Delta Tau Delta 12, Alpha Epsilon Pi 0.

Delta Tau Delta 21, Acacia 3.

Acacia 14, Sigma Nu 1.

Award Assembly Friday Hatchet

Sports

By DOUG JOHNSON

• THE ANNUAL Sports Award Assembly will be held Friday, Lisner Auditorium, 11 a.m. to 12 noon. By an order of President Marvin, all classes have been officially excused in order that all students will have an opportunity to pay their respect to the students of GW who excel in athletic activity.

On this occasion, which will be complete with the band, Glee Club, and cheer leaders, all of the awards for intercollegiate athletics, the Colonials awards, and the Tuffy Leemans Cup will be presented to the University athletes. Awards will also be made to the winners of the Women's Recreation Association sports and to the champions of the Men's intramurals.

The master of ceremonies for the program will be John Brookes, chairman of the Extra-curricular Committee of the Board of Trustees. Mrs. Joshua Evans, another member of the Board, will preside for the women. In addition, Dr. Marvin will give a brief talk.

To emphasize this even more, please read the following memorandum:

TO MEMBERS OF THE FACULTY:

By direction of the President, you are hereby advised that students may be excused from the 11:10 classes on Friday, 25 April, 1952, in order to attend the Awards Assembly in Lisner Auditorium.

Please note that this letter is being sent only to members of the full-time staff. Part-time instructors who are conducting classes at the above named hour should be informed by the Executive Officers of the appropriate Departments.

Very truly yours,
Fred E. Nessell,
Registrar and Secretary of the Faculties.

Buff Down VPI, 12-2

The Colonial baseball team boosted its Southern conference record to three wins and one loss by defeating VPI 12-2 at Lexington, yesterday afternoon.

Prior to the win the Buff were in a second place tie with W&L in the northern division of the Conference.

• VOTING IS NOT only a national pastime at this point; the WRA has been voting, too. The new managers elected this semester are Beulah Parker, bowling; Barbara Edelschein, tennis; Ann Finton badminton; Nancy Hopkin, hockey; Nell Weaver, basketball; and Joan Tichez, archery.

Competitions are still highlighting the season. Winner of the ISAB Golf Tournament was Pi Beta Phi. Kappa Alpha Theta and Sigma Kappa took second and third, respectively. Taking the top three spots in the ISAB Tennis Tournament were Sigma Kappa, Kappa Alpha Theta and Chi Omega, in that order.

Honors have been awarded preceding the Awards Assembly in the naming of the honorary bowling and tennis varsities. Rating tops in bowling to make the grade are Beulah Parker, Amy Schaum, Shirley Floyd, Val Tinkham, and Nan McKinney. Swinging mean rackets brought honor to Savitri Sastreamenjojo, Barbara Edelschein, Shirley Floyd and Amy Schaum who form the tennis varsity team.

The All-U Women's Swim Meet will be held tomorrow, April 23, 8 p. m. at the Y. W. C. A. pool, 17th and K Sts., NW, where independents and sorority girls will vie for places in speed and form events.

Track Meet Set

Highlight of this week's intra-mural program will be the departments annual track meet. The meet, which is open to all University students, will be held at Western High School, Saturday afternoon starting at 12:30 p.m.

Colonials Start Hitting; Gibbs, Cilento Star

By STEVE LEVY

• THE BUFF and Blue took a 2-1 Southern Conference record down south this week, having played V.P.I. yesterday, V.M.I. today, and W & L tomorrow. They continue play in the conference Friday as they face V.M.I. at the Ellipse at 2:30.

Georgetown, 2-GW 1

The Colonials lost their second extra innings game as the Hoyas scored the winning run in the 10th inning on Frank Mattingly's double. The loss leaves the Colonials with only a slim chance of coping the area title running last to Md. and Georgetown.

The winning hurler for the Hill-toppers was Waldelle and taking the setback for the Buff was George Sengstack, starting his second game in two days and his third in six.

GW picked up their lone run in the fourth inning. Steve Korchick and Jack Tivnan popped up to the infield. Fox, Sengstack, and Barreira followed with singles, Fox scoring.

Throughout the rest of the contest Waldelle's pitching was too

Freshman southpaw, Marv Wisniewsky, spotted the Colonials three runs in the first and then came on strong to deal GW their fifth setback against one lone victory.

Ed Hughes, who started the game for GW, looked good for six innings, but was finally knocked out in the seventh as the Wolverines scored five times.

That disastrous inning saw Michigan send nine men to bat. They collected five hits and GW committed one error.

Michigan also scored once in the sixth and four more runs in the ninth. The last four runs were off Jerry Marvel, who took over for Hughes in the seventh inning.

The Buff scored one run in the ninth as Bobby Cilento tripled in Richie Gibbs, but the first was the only inning in which they gave the Wolverine hurler any trouble.

Barreira led off with a walk and advanced to second on Gibbs' single. Cilento laid down a beautiful bunt between the pitcher and first sacker, who were charging in, to load the bases. Ciarrocca walked forcing in Barreira and Steve Burda's single sent Gibbs and Cilento home.

Cilento led the hitting with three for four. Hughes walked only two men in his seven innings, but gave up 7 hits.

Fordham, 5-GW, 4

Dick Drake, making his first start for the Buff and Blue, limited the Fordham Rams to 3 hits, all singles, but his wildness was his undoing. He walked nine batters.

GW nearly pulled the game out of the fire in the ninth inning, but their rally fell one run short of a tie. They went into the inning trailing 5-3. With one out they filled the bases, but were able to get only one man home when the Ram hurler, Hanrahan, hit Steve Burda forcing in the fourth and final GM score. Fox then struck out and Tivnan grounded out.

The Rams scored their fifth and winning run in the ninth in. (See BASEBALL, Page 10)

• LOU CIARROCCA, Senior star who has been switching periodically from the outfield to first base, spears a high throw from ex-roommate Bob Cilento.

much for the Colonials, and in only one other inning did they get a man past second.

Sengstack gave up eight hits in the first seven innings but spread them out holding the Hoyas scoreless.

But in the eighth Georgetown finally broke the ice. Wolfer worked Sengstack for a walk and then scored on Vail's booming double.

The game went into extra innings when neither club could score in the ninth, setting the stage for Mattingly's game winning clout. Walls opened the inning with a single, went to second when Vail walked, and came home with the winning run on Mattingly's hit.

Golfers Divide Matches With Richmond, Bolling

• THE GW GOLF squad tuned up on Richmond University, last Monday, at Kenwood Country Club by downing them easily 7 to 2. Though the match began under sunny skies, it ended up in a light rain.

Richmond got their only two points under the leadership of Bill Hergert, whose 79 was good enough to down George Takane 4 and 3 for one point, and also sufficient to give Richmond the best ball of the foursome for the second point. Aside from Hergert's play, there was little on the Richmond staff to get excited about.

GW's best score was turned in by Jim Reese who eked out a 77 on his home course, to defeat Charles Welber 4 and 3. The other matches were as follows:

Sportively Yours

By SAM PORTWINE

• BASEBALL now rolls into the second week of its schedule but take a look at the statistics after the first weeks play.

In the National League Brooklyn is leading in everything but broken bats.

They—at this writing—have won five straight games. Taking the Boston Braves three straight and the first two of a three game series from the New York Giants.

Far and away the best hitting team in the league they lead in team average with a big fat .357 average. Individual Dodgers among the leaders are: Carl Furillo batting .474, Roy Campanella .471, Jackie Robinson .467, and Billy Cox .458.

Saying the Dodgers were the best fielding team in the league would create too much argument but they are presently leading the field in fielding with a cool 1.000 average. Not an error in 168 chances.

Yankees Reign

Over in the American League the New York Yankees reign almost as supreme as do the Dodgers, although the Cleveland Indians have a better won and lost record (5-0). The Yankees have a team batting average of .504 which is 44 points higher than second place Cleveland.

Last year the Red Wings placed four players on the league all-star team. Led by their famed "Production Line," Gordie Howe, Sid Abel, and Ted Lindsay along with the league's highest scoring defenseman; Len Kelly and goalie Terry Sawchuck, hockey's new "Mr. Zero" the Wings are positive to have four more all-stars again this year.

The telecast sponsors of Red Wing games have come up with a slogan that is rivalling "What'll you have" in popularity. It goes like this. What are the two finest things on ice? The Detroit Red Wings and Strohs Bohemian beer."

The Colonials baseball team broke out of their apathy at the plate as they blasted 16 hits against Virginia Saturday. Richie Bibbs a transfer student from Montgomery Junior College led the GW attack both offensively and defensively. In six trips to the plate he collected five hits, and scored four times. In the field he handled eight chances perfectly. Quite a day.

Gibbs, a one year Navy veteran, was all-county and all-prep while playing for Bethesda-Chevy Chase High in 1947 and 1948.

The recent shake-up in the baseball lineup cost promising Jerry Paparella his shortstop job. However don't count Paparella out prematurely. He celebrated his seventeenth birthday recently and still has three years remaining, you'll hear plenty from him.

Had the Graziano-Robinson fight lasted four more rounds Wednesday night it would undoubtedly go into the archives of boxing as one of the greatest fights of all time.

Great Fight

Both fighters were in great shape. Graziano's boast "I can knock out anyone I can hit" was borne out in the second round when he hurt Robinson with solid blow on top of the head.

Many Robinson admirers were worried, particularly myself. Sugar Ray's punches seemed to make the Rock come back all the madder. More surprised but relieved was I at the suddenness of the finish. Robinson's right hand—the knock-out punch—couldn't have travelled more than four inches.

Do you have any little brothers or sisters that you would like to have in camp this summer? See Andy Davis, he is completing arrangements for an eight week day camp this summer . . . Where could you find better guidance for precocious, little Huckleberry Dillingers l'enfants?

Tars Tie Gobs

SAILING TEAM

• SAILING at the Naval Academy this past weekend, the GW tars tied with Navy to qualify for the Mid-Atlantic Championships which will be held May 3, 4 at Navy. The top two winners of this event will go to the national contests.

Although they tied in points, Navy was named official winner over GW because they placed first in more races. Aside from Georgetown, which placed third, other schools participating were Princeton, Colgate, Pennsylvania, Lehigh, Haverford, and Drexel. Sailing for GW were Bob Harwood and John Dodge, skippers, and Rita Lear, Sue Vernon and Bob Chase, crews.

On April 12, 13, the GW team finished one point behind Georgetown to place 3rd out of 12 schools in the Navy Spring Invitational, which was won by Navy.
